

5 Reasons to Shop Secondhand

1. Shopping on a budget

Grab a bargain and find brand names at ridiculously low prices. Many designer items are passed on to secondhand and consignment stores. Nothing beats the thrill of bagging that one-of-a-kind designer piece for under $10.

2. Help a charity

Not all secondhand stores are connected to charities, but a whole lot of them are! You get to shop, and charities get to pass on the benefits. Feel good and look good with your purchases.

3. Stop landfill & waste

Everything you find in a secondhand store could have easily ended up in landfill. But thanks to you it doesn't have to. Buying secondhand is an easy way to practice sustainability while shopping at the same time. It shrinks our fashion footprint and environmental impact by giving items a second chance.

4. Give items new life

When we buy or wear an item that has already been produced, we give it a new life and rebel against fast fashion. Revive yesterday and combine it with the today!

5. Unique style

Shopping secondhand and vintage helps you create your own unique style that will last longer than any of the latest trends. Create an outfit from one-off pieces or combine salvaged with something already in your collection. Make it uniquely you.
